5  POLICY STATEMENT

5.1 CQUniversity offers a range of academic prizes which strengthen the links between CQUniversity and its communities, reinforce CQUniversity’s reputation for academic excellence, and support the academic objectives of CQUniversity’s teaching, learning and research activity. Academic prizes are offered on the basis of academic merit and all donor prizes established under this policy and procedure must have a minimum value of $500.

5.2 CQUniversity seeks to grow its portfolio of academic prizes and will actively seek funding through partnership with businesses, organisations and individual donors.

5.3 Each academic prize will have defined and approved selection criteria. Students are eligible to receive one or more academic prizes. Donors can place geographic constraints on academic prizes; in these instances the student cohort’s home address will be referenced.

5.4 The needs of donor organisations who serve a specific target audience, will be considered at the discretion of the Director, Development and Alumni Relations.

5.5 Prizes awarded each year at an annual awards ceremony, with the exception of Research and Non Award prizes, are based on results for the previous academic year. The previous academic year comprises studies completed in Term 3 of the previous year and Terms 1 and 2 of the prize year. For example the annual awards ceremony held in June 2016 for the 2015 prize year comprises studies completed in Term 3, 2014 and Terms 1 and 2, 2015.

6  PROCEDURE

6.1 The Student Governance Centre (SGC) will confirm the selection criteria for academic prizes as provided by the Development and Alumni Relations Directorate (DARD), provide feedback in relation to any donor funded academic prizes affected by course/unit changes, and liaise with the appropriate School in relation to institutionally funded prizes affected by course/unit changes.
6.2 Relationships with donors will be managed by the Director, Development and Alumni Relations, who has sole authority to approve the establishment or alteration of donor funded academic prizes.

6.3 The Coordinator, Fees and Awards or delegate will liaise with the appropriate School for approval or alteration of institutionally funded academic prizes.

6.4 DARD will confirm the donor funded academic prizes available to students in the academic prize year and provide the SGC, Research Division and the School of Academic Learning Services this definitive list of academic prizes and selection criteria.

6.5 DARD will provide donors with any academic prize criteria amendments and organise invoices for payment.

6.6 SGC will identify academic prize recipients and provide this list to DARD and Deans of Schools.

6.7 The Research Division will identify research prize recipients and provide this list to SGC.

6.8 The School of Academic Learning Services will identify non award prize recipients and provide this list to SGC.

6.9 SGC will centralise details of all prize winners and provide an overall prize report to DARD, who will then notify donors of academic prize recipients.

6.10 SGC will notify eligible academic prize recipients and provide DARD and Corporate Events with the finalised list of academic prize recipients who have accepted. This list will include details of prizes that have been accepted by students and financial codes necessary for DARD to journal funds.

6.11 All financial disbursements in relation to academic prizes will be carried out in accordance with CQUniversity's Financial Management Practice Manual.

6.12 DARD will advise non-monetary donors of eligible academic prize recipients to enable non-monetary prizes to be distributed to eligible academic prize recipients.

6.13 In consultation with Corporate Events, DARD will issue ceremony invitations to all academic prize donors to the annual awards ceremony. Corporate Events will issue ceremony invitations to the annual awards ceremony to all eligible students who have accepted their academic prize.

6.14 Corporate Events will coordinate and execute the annual awards ceremony, including issuing prize certificates to students who were not able to attend the annual awards ceremony.
