1 PURPOSE
1.1 CQUniversity values openness and promotes transparency in processes, procedures and decision-making and emphasises consistency, fairness and probity as integral to our relationships, individual and collective, with all stakeholders. University members should avoid ethical, legal, financial, personal relationships or other conflicts of interest, and ensure that their activities and interests do not conflict with their obligations to the University.

2 SCOPE
2.1 This policy and procedure applies to all CQUniversity staff; members of the University Council and its Committees; an office holder in a University entity; adjunct or honorary appointees of the University; and any other person appointed or engaged by the University to perform duties or functions on its behalf.

2.2 Where a staff member is a member of the University Council or a Council Committee, then section 26A(c) of the Central Queensland University Act 1998 also applies.

3 POLICY STATEMENT
3.1 The Queensland Independent Commission Against Corruption (ICAC) Managing Conflicts of Interest in the Public Sector Guidelines state ‘there is nothing unusual or necessarily wrong in having a conflict of interest. How it is dealt with is the important thing’.
3.2 While conflicts of interest are not wrong in themselves, and indeed cannot always be avoided, the potential for conflict of interest exists in all aspects of University operations, including research, teaching, assessment, staffing, administration, and commercial activity. Conflicts may be actual, potential or perceived by others. With increasing links between the University and other organisations, companies and institutions, it is important that staff act and are seen to act with integrity and are not inappropriately benefited by improperly using their position in the University.

3.3 The most effective means to address actual, potential or perceived conflicts of interest is to establish a system under which members of staff are required to disclose and obtain evaluation of any conflict of interest.

3.4 The purpose of this policy and procedure is to outline such a system – the University's procedures for the identification and management of actual, potential or perceived conflicts of interest – and to assist staff in addressing conflict of interest issues.

General expectations

3.5 The University has a responsibility to ensure that its official activities and those of its staff conform to acceptable standards of integrity and good conduct. It recognises that a well-established system for identifying, disclosing and managing conflicts of interest increases its public accountability and reduces the risk of corruption, misconduct and bias in its operations and decision-making processes. The University also recognises that conflicts of interest are not unusual in the exercise of public responsibility, and cannot always be avoided. The University expects:

- all staff members to act with honesty and integrity
- staff will not allow their external, personal or financial interests or their duties to any external entity to compromise their duties, obligations and responsibilities to the University
- all conflicts of interest, regardless of their character or level, will be identified, disclosed and managed
- that any gifts, benefits/sponsorship/hospitality or service will not be accepted by staff if the intention is to influence current or future behaviour of staff or an individual School/Directorate within the University (see also Gifts and Benefits Policy and Procedure). The preservation of academic and professional independence is a paramount consideration and should be made clear to potential sponsors
- where a conflict of interest occurs, the interests of the University will be balanced against the interests of the staff member. Unless exceptional circumstances exist, the balance of interests will be resolved in the University's favour, and
- Managers, when notified of a conflict of interest, will deal promptly with the conflict as per this policy and procedure and put in place arrangements that protect the integrity of the University’s processes and decision-making.

4 PROCEDURE

Roles and responsibilities

4.1 The Secretary to Council is responsible for the overall management of conflicts of interest processes within the University, including maintenance of a central register of disclosures.

4.2 Staff members are responsible for:
- understanding and complying with this policy and procedure
- assessing their own private and personal interests and whether they conflict or have the potential to conflict with the University’s interests, including their own duties as staff members
- disclosing and managing any actual, perceived or potential conflicts of interest in accordance with this policy and procedure
- where appropriate, being aware of additional, current requirements linked to research, and
- not making decisions or seeking to influence the decisions of others in matters relating to the staff member’s private interest.
4.3 Managers are responsible for:
- understanding and complying with this policy and procedure and ensuring staff are aware of the policy and procedure
- being aware of areas of conflict of interest within their area of responsibility, assessing risks and advising the relevant senior officer
- disclosing and managing any actual, perceived or potential conflicts of interest in accordance with this policy and procedure, including reviewing disclosed conflicts on at least an annual basis to ensure that the information remains correct and that the management responses continue to be appropriate and effective
- assisting staff who have queries about actual, perceived or potential conflicts of interest
- seeking advice or support from the relevant senior officer, where necessary.

4.4 Relevant senior officers are responsible for:
- all matters listed under Managers
- supporting staff within the Division to manage any conflicts of interest
- reviewing and ensuring that management of conflicts of interest complies with this policy and procedure
- seeking advice and support relating to the implementation of this policy and procedure, where necessary from the Secretary to Council.

4.5 The relevant senior officers are the Vice-Chancellor and President, Provost and Deputy Vice-Chancellors.

4.6 The relevant senior officer may delegate their responsibilities under this policy and procedure but only to a Pro Vice-Chancellor, Dean or Director who reports directly to the relevant senior officer.

Key test for identifying conflicts of interest

4.7 Staff must ensure that any conflicts between their personal or private interests and their University duties are promptly identified and managed.

The test

4.7.1 The test is: Whether an individual could be influenced, or appear to be influenced, by a private interest or conflict of commitment when carrying out their duties and responsibilities as a staff member of the University.

4.7.2 This test should focus on the official role and the private relationships or interests of the staff member concerned, and whether a reasonable, disinterested person would think these relationships or interests could conceivably conflict or appear to conflict with the staff member’s University role.

4.7.3 In the event that there is uncertainty about whether a conflict of interest exists, in accordance with the policy and procedure definitions, advice must be sought from the staff member’s Manager.

Areas of high risk

4.7.4 There are a number of areas of University activity that are deemed high risk. These include, but are not limited to:
- procurement processes, tenders and contracts
- gifts, hospitality and other benefits
- staff recruitment, selection, appointment, re-classification, termination, tenure, promotion, performance management, staff development, conditions of service, recognition and reward
- student recruitment, selection, admission to university and awarding of scholarships
- assessment or supervision of students
• personal relationships
• exercising financial and other delegations
• sponsorships to or from the University
• private practice arrangements
• all commercialisation activities [consultancy and commercial research, technology transfer (including collaborative research, licensing, patents, material transfer), enterprise and related activities]
• research activities, including disclosure to funding bodies and for individuals responsible for carrying out any part of an investigation of an allegation of research misconduct
• providing ethical or other approval to researchers for intended projects
• funding from commercial entities for educational activities, where the funder may exert undue influence on participants for current or future commercial gain.

Conflicts of interest arising from personal relationships in the workplace

4.7.5 It is undesirable that personal relationships should intrude or be perceived to intrude on or influence working practices and decisions.

4.7.6 The University requires that staff disclose actual, potential or perceived conflicts of interest arising from the existence of a personal relationship. This requirement is based on the potential for, or perception of, the possibility that a decision may be biased or prejudiced, either in favour of or against, a person with whom there is a personal relationship. The University seeks to assure that no undue advantage or disadvantage occurs because of the existence of a personal relationship. The staff member must immediately cease to be involved in any decision making in respect of the person with whom they have a personal relationship until their Manager determines how the conflict of interest should be managed.

4.7.7 The general principle to guide behaviour is that it is unethical and undesirable for a personal relationship to intrude, or be perceived to intrude, on or influence working practices and decisions.

4.7.8 The University does not allow staff members to directly supervise immediate family members. Alternative arrangements must be discussed with the relevant Manager should this situation arise in order to avoid such a conflict.

Conflicts of interest in research

4.7.9 Compliance with both the Australian Code for the Responsible Conduct of Research (Australian Code) and the National Statement on Ethical Conduct in Human Research (National Statement) is a condition of research funding from most bodies (including the Australian Research Council (ARC) and National Health and Medical Research Council (NHMRC)). The Australian Code and National Statement outline the responsibilities of institutions and researchers with regards to conflicts of interest.

4.7.10 Guidance for researchers on managing conflicts of interest as defined in the Australian Code and National Statement can be found in the CQUniversity Code of Conduct for Research. A researcher who fails to appropriately handle a conflict of interest may be subject to action under either the CQUniversity Code of Conduct for Research (where a simple breach of the research ethics arrangement is involved) or the University’s Student Research Misconduct Policy and Procedure where research misconduct is demonstrated.

4.7.11 Where there is any discrepancy between this policy and procedure and the Australian Code/National Statement/CQUniversity Code of Conduct for Research (e.g. in the extent of notifications or disclosures required) the requirements of the Australian Code/National Statement/CQUniversity Code of Conduct for Research take precedence.

Conflicts of commitment

4.7.12 Staff are required to be familiar and comply with the Paid Outside Work Procedure.
4.7.13 Conflicts of commitment often involve issues of time allocation and are situations where an individual engages in outside professional activities, either paid or unpaid, that may interfere with their primary obligation and commitments to the University.

4.7.14 Whenever a staff member’s primary professional loyalty is not to the University, a conflict of commitment exists. If a situation arises that raises questions about a possible conflict of commitment, staff must discuss this with their Manager.

Disclosing conflicts of interest

4.8 Disclosures about actual, perceived or potential conflicts of interest must be made as soon as reasonably practicable, with the primary obligation of the staff member being to disclose in advance, to the staff member’s Manager on the Conflict of Interest - Disclosure Statement Form.

4.9 There may be other disclosures required in respect to research under the Australian Code/National Statement/CQUniversity Code of Conduct for Research (see 6.9 above).

4.10 If a management procedure beyond disclosure is deemed to be required by the Manager, this will be advised to the staff member and, if appropriate, to other relevant officers of the University. An appropriate procedure to manage the conflict of interest will be agreed.

4.11 Completed Conflict of Interest - Disclosure Statement Forms are to be forwarded to the relevant senior officer for the Division in which the staff member works. The relevant senior officer will determine whether the procedure to manage the conflict of interest is adequate and will, if necessary, impose additional measures.

4.12 A conflict of interest affecting a Pro Vice-Chancellor, Dean or Director must be disclosed to the relevant Provost or Deputy Vice-Chancellor. Conflicts of interest affecting Provost or Deputy Vice-Chancellors must be disclosed to the Vice-Chancellor and President. Conflicts of interest affecting the Vice-Chancellor and President must be disclosed to the Chancellor.

4.13 The relevant senior officer must forward all Disclosure Statements to the Governance Directorate to include in the central register of Disclosure Statements.

4.14 Disclosure only occurs when submitted on the Disclosure Statement. The fact that a matter may be known by others, or is considered public knowledge, is no substitute for disclosure on the required form. Where a Manager or senior staff member becomes aware of a conflict of interest they are to remind staff of their obligation to submit a Disclosure Statement.

Managing conflicts of interest

4.15 The management of conflicts of interest will be determined by the relevant senior officer for the area in which the staff member works. The four recommended responses are:

Avoid the conflict of interest

4.15.1 Avoiding a conflict of interest which poses an unacceptable risk to, or impact on, the University’s interests is the preferred strategy. To avoid a conflict of interest, the staff member concerned may be removed from the decision-making process in relation to the matter concerned or requested to relinquish the private interest which is creating the conflict.

Accept and reduce the conflict of interest

4.15.2 A conflict of interest may be reduced by ensuring that the staff member concerned has restrictions placed on their involvement in the relevant matter, or that another staff member or organisational area takes responsibility for the matter.

Share the conflict of interest

4.15.3 A conflict of interest may be shared by involving a third party to oversee part or all of the decision-making process that deals with the relevant matter.
Retain the conflict of interest

4.15.4 A conflict of interest may be retained and the staff member continues to be involved in the matter concerned, subject to a regular review of the situation. This response is only suitable for low risk conflicts of interest.

Monitoring conflicts of interest

4.16 All disclosed interests must be reviewed by the staff member and their Manager on at least an annual basis to ensure that the information remains correct, and that the management responses continue to be appropriate and effective.

4.17 Any change in the arrangements must be notified immediately to the relevant senior officer.

Failure to disclose a conflict of interest

4.18 Staff have an obligation to disclose and manage conflicts of interest. Failing to comply with this policy and procedure, including refusal to take any reasonable action as directed, to resolve a conflict of interest may constitute misconduct or serious misconduct which may result in disciplinary action or termination of employment.

4.19 When an external member/party is involved in University decisions they need to abide by CQUniversity rules.

4.20 Breaches of this policy and procedure may also result in referral to, and action being taken by, an external statutory authority and/or agency.

Privacy and confidentiality

4.21 Information arising from conflict of interest disclosures will be managed in accordance with the University’s Information Privacy Policy and Procedure.

4.22 Information held may be used for University purposes including audit, reporting, compliance monitoring and other purposes required by government or legislation.

Public interest disclosures (whistleblowing)

4.23 If a member of staff has knowledge that a conflict of interest may exist that may not have been disclosed, they should discuss the situation with a relevant supervisor or Manager, or consider taking action under the University’s Public Interest Disclosure Management Policy and Procedure.

Examples of conflict of interest situations

Academic

4.24.1 An academic staff member involved in teaching or assessing a student who is a relative, family or personal friend needs to disclose the relationship.

4.24.2 A staff member with responsibility on an academic review panel has a personal or familial relationship with the academic that could influence or be perceived to influence a decision needs to disclose the conflict of interest and withdraw from the deliberations in respect of the person with whom they have a personal relationship.

4.24.3 In academic research, the term conflict of interest refers especially to situations in which financial or other personal considerations may compromise, or may have the appearance of compromising, an investigator’s professional judgment in conducting or reporting research. This can affect collection, analysis and interpretation of data, hiring of staff, procurement of materials, sharing of results, choice of protocol, and the use of statistical methods.
4.24.4 In the peer review and publication process, a conflict of interest may arise where an author, reviewer or editor allows personal conviction, financial interests, or personal relationships (of amity or enmity) to influence their decision making.

4.24.5 The supervision of research students presents an environment for potential conflict of interest where a personal relationship exists.

4.24.6 Human research by an investigator who has funding support creates, for research participants, additional risk for adverse consequences. Research participants must be recruited and treated with full protection of their personal rights and their right to ethical and impartial clinical or professional management.
Disclosure of monies received should be made to research participants.

4.24.7 An investigator or research candidate has a private interest in an organisation providing funding support to the research project (or candidate), such as through a grant or scholarship.

4.24.8 A staff member conducts research or clinical trials sponsored by a company in which the staff member (or an associate) has a financial interest or holds an executive position.

4.24.9 A staff member receives gifts, gratuities, loans or special favours (including trips or speakers fees) from research sponsors or vendors.

4.24.10 A researcher or a member of their immediate family is a user of a community service being evaluated.

4.24.11 The researcher is an employee of the organisation the research will be commenting upon.

4.24.12 The researcher has affiliations or memberships (e.g. clubs, political parties, religious groups) that are pertinent to the research topic.

4.24.13 The researcher has a familial, personal or other relationship with research subjects or participants.

Outside work/commercial activity

4.24.14 A conflict may arise in relation to the allocation of time, intellectual energy and primary professional commitment between University responsibilities and external activities.

4.24.15 Conflict of interest can arise where a member of staff has multiple official roles (such as being an officer of the University and serving as the Director of a company controlled by the University). In these situations, a person may use information obtained in exercising one role to the advantage or disadvantage of another organisation in an improper way.

4.24.16 A staff member who is the Director of a company that the University is bidding with or is bidding against for contract research funds. The staff member is unlikely to be able to simultaneously meet their obligations as a director of a company and meet their obligations as a staff member to act in the best interests of the University at all times.

4.24.17 A staff member undertakes paid/unpaid outside work that impacts on their ability to fulfil their duties and obligations to the University.

4.24.18 A staff member tenders for and engages in consultancy work as an individual rather than as a University staff member: the work is the same as the work they are employed to perform and they could have engaged in this work as a staff member but they did not obtain approval under the Paid Outside Work Procedure to undertake the work.

4.24.19 A staff member holds an equity interest or executive position in a start-up company that has a contractual arrangement with the University to conduct further research.

Procurement

4.24.20 A staff member with decision making powers in relation to a tender offered by the University accepts a gift or hospitality from a person associated with a company which is tendering for the work from the University.
4.24.21 A staff member or a member of their immediate family has a direct or indirect financial interest, or hold a directorship, in a company or other entity which supplies, or is likely to supply, goods and/or services to the University, or which operates in competition with the University.

4.24.22 A staff member takes part in assessing a tender application where he/she has, or has had, a personal relationship with a person or organisation that has submitted a tender application.

4.24.23 Selection as a University supplier by a staff member who has a personal or economic interest in that entity, this includes engaging a family member as an independent contractor, subcontractor or consultant.

Recruitment and selection

4.24.24 A staff member with decision making powers over the employment of staff is involved in the selection process in which a relative is an applicant.

4.24.25 A staff member employs a family member or close associate to undertake sessional academic work or casual administrative work periods without undertaking any merit based selection process or disclosing the relationship.

4.24.26 A staff member with decision making powers over the selection for entry into University participates in the assessment of eligibility of a student with whom they have a close personal relationship.

4.24.27 A staff member with responsibility for selection, assessment or supervision of a student’s work also has a personal or family relationship with that student.

Other

4.24.28 A staff member uses information received as a University employee for personal purposes.

4.24.29 A staff member receives gifts, gratuities, loans or special favours (including trips or speakers fees) from research sponsors or vendors.

4.24.30 A staff member directly receives cash, services or equipment in support of their University activities from non-University sources.

4.24.31 A staff member or close associate holds equity, royalty or debt instrument interest in an entity that provides financial support, including research or other support services, to the University, when such support will benefit staff or persons supervised, directly or indirectly, by them.

4.24.32 A staff member or close associate holds an interest, including ownership, in any real or personal property leased or purchased by the University.

5 RESPONSIBILITIES

Compliance, monitoring and review

5.1 The Secretary to Council is responsible for the overall management of conflicts of interest processes within the University, including maintenance of a central register of disclosures.

5.2 The Director, People and Culture is responsible for ensuring all staff and supervisors are aware of their responsibilities regarding conflicts of interest, and that disclosure forms completed by staff are kept and maintained in the staff member’s personnel file.

Recording

5.3 No additional reporting is required.

Records management

5.4 Staff must maintain all records relevant to administering this policy and procedure in a recognised University recordkeeping system.
6 DEFINITIONS

6.1 Terms not defined in this document may be in the University glossary.

Terms and definitions

Conflict of Interest: ‘A conflict of interest involves a conflict between the public duty and private interests of a public official, in which the public official has private interests which could improperly influence the performance of their official duties and responsibilities’. Arises when a staff member’s personal interests, or those of a person with whom they have a close personal relationship, conflict with their primary obligation to act in the interests of the University. A conflict of interest may be actual, perceived or potential. It can be pecuniary (involving financial gain or loss), or non-pecuniary (based on enmity or amity) and can arise from avoiding personal losses as well as gaining personal advantage, financial or otherwise. Conflict of interest includes conflict of commitment.

Financial interest: any right, claim, title or legal share in something having a monetary or equivalent value. Examples of financial interest include, but are not limited to, shares, share options, and the right to receive remunerations such as salary, consulting fees, allowances, discounts and the like.

Actual conflict of interest: involves a real conflict between current duties and responsibilities and existing private interests.

Perceived conflict of interest: where a reasonable person might perceive that such improper influence as described in conflict of interest could exist.

Potential conflict of interest: where a conflict may arise in the future between current or future duties and responsibilities and existing or future private interests.

Conflict of commitment (dual interests): may arise where an individual has multiple and incompatible public duties. This may occur, for example, when a staff member has a public role with another organisation in addition to their University duties. University staff may have involvements with external organisations such as: serving on a board or committee, holding an honorary appointment with another university, being involved in a Cooperative Research Centre (CRC) or other research project external to the university, or serving as a director on a controlled entity of the university. This can often result in dualities of interest or obligation with respect to the University and the other organisation.

Personal relationships: are relationships which extend beyond professional relations, based on factors irrelevant to the working competencies of staff. Personal relationships include:

- family relationships (siblings, parent/child, husband/wife, de facto spouses, partner, cousins, relations by marriage such as brother- or sister-in-law)
- emotional relationships (including sexual relationships and close friendships)
- financial relationships (commercial relationships where pecuniary interest is present).

Private interests: refers to any interests that involve potential gain or loss (financial or nonfinancial) for an individual or for any other person or organisation that individual may wish to benefit (e.g. family, friends, associates) or disadvantage (e.g. competitors, rivals).
